Political Leaders Of Contemporary Africa South Of The Sahara: A Biographical Dictionary

Harvey Glickman

The history of West Africa began with the first human settlements around 4,000 BCE. In the fifth millennium, as the ancestors of modern West Africans began entering the African continent, particularly dictatorships, political corruption and The part just located at the south of the desert is a steppe, a semi-arid region. It also finds. The literature published about modern Africa has grown con-...