Memorials for Children of Change: The Art of Early New England Stonecarving. Dickran Tashjian. 5.0 out of 5 stars. I have repeatedly taken it out of my art school's library because I am fascinated with the different carvings on the gravestones. These rubbings of the carvings include faces of angels, portraits of the deceased, urns, willow trees, and other decorative motifs. It may seem morbid to enjoy such a book, yet I find it completely fascinating book!
