This indoor classroom activity may be a blast from the past, but students still love it today. The easiest way to play is to have students each think of anything from an animal to an aircraft and write it down on a piece of paper and fold it in half. Then, all students place it into a bowl, and each team of students takes turns choosing a paper and acting out what is on it. The team with the most points wins. Do you have any classroom activities or indoor games that your student’s particularly love? Please share your ideas in the comment section below, we would love to hear your ideas.
