When Earnhardt set JR Motorsports in motion, he recruited his sister as a key partner in the organization. So it’s not surprising that she shared another milestone with her brother when he announced his Cup retirement at the end of the 2017 season. "Yesterday, I was pretty spent after a long day and a lot of emotions in the weeks preparing for yesterday and finally being able to put that news out," Earnhardt Miller said on SiriusXM NASCAR Radio on Wednesday. "Like most race fans, it will take Earnhardt Miller time to get accustomed to a NASCAR without an Earnhardt competing at the sport’s top level. It’s all she’s ever known."
