Point: The God who created all things was, is, and will be involved in all aspects of bringing that creation back to its intended purpose.

Path: Carson takes upon himself the formidable task of unraveling the unifying story of Scripture found in sixty-six unique, yet connected, books. Beginning with the Creation account of Genesis 1 and ending with the New Creation prophecy of Rev 21-22, the author explains the Big Story.

I have just finished reading The God Who is There by D.A. Carson. I don't think that any words I put here, will do justice to Carson's renderings. The subtitle of his book is "Finding Your Place in God's Story", and I can't think of a more adequate or accurate description than that for this book. Carson begins, effectively, at the Beginning--Genesis.
